

FIRST PRIZE for floats in the Fourth of July parade at Mokena was won by the Mokena Woman's club entry. Each of the entries had a theme and that of the Woman's club was "The Circus." The clown trudging alongside the automobile was portrayed by Mrs. Robert Best.

MIDGET FOOTBALL players, the Burros of Mokena, also had float in the parade. It didn't win any prize but the youngsters let the townspeople know that the football season is not too far off. Behind this float are some of the members of the Shrine Club Patrol from Joliet. The Shriners also had a motorcycle contingent in the parade. The Shrine received the accolade of "Best in Parade." Boy Scout Troop No. 40 got second prize with its float, "Old and New in Scouting," and the Mokena Park District was third with its float, "Recreation."

Girl Killed In Accident Involving Area Residents

A 15-year-old Joliet girl was killed and four area residents injured last Saturday night in a two-car collision at Mills rd. and Richards st., Joliet.

The girl fatally injured was Joan Przybylski, 611 N. Center st. She was a passenger in a car driven by Robert Neilsen, 17, Maple rd., New Lenox. Neilsen and another passenger, Kathryn Landrey, 2617 Starlite drive, New Lenox township, were treated at Silver Cross hospital and released, as was the driver of the other car, Joseph Wildehaber, 18, of Manhattan.

Linda Stanfill, 17, Manhattan, who will be a senior at Lincoln-Way high school next fall, was hospitalized.

According to the report of Joliet police Neilsen and his guests had been at the midget auto races at Joliet. He was traveling east on Mills road and failed to heed the stop sign at Richards street, according to the police report on the accident. His car was struck broadside by a southbound car on Richards st., driven by Wildehaber, who was graduated from Lincoln-Way this June.

The Przybylski girl was pronounced dead on arrival at Silver Cross.

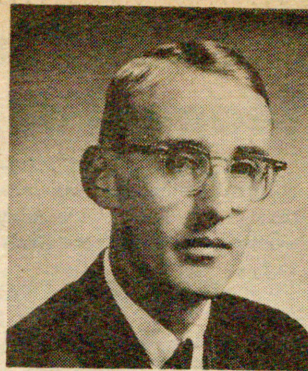

Neilsen was ticketed by police on a charge of failure to obey a stop sign.

New Arrivals In L-W Dist. To Register

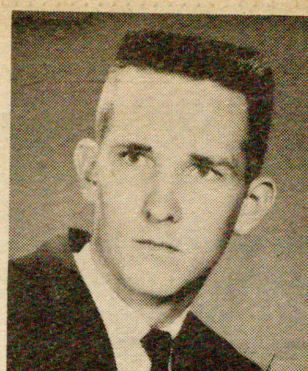

High school students moving into the Lincoln-Way district should register at the high school anytime between 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Monday thru Friday, thru the summer.

Jonas Lashmet, administrative assistant, has indicated that many of the classes are reaching capacity and therefore, a student wishing to take a certain course will be unable to do so if he does not register early after moving into the district.

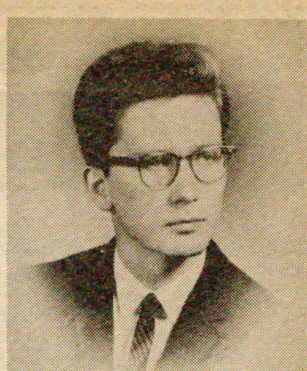

Mr. Lashmet said that he would also appreciate hearing from students who will be moving away from the Lincoln-Way district this summer.

Announces Changes In Faculty At Lincoln-Way

The resignations of Miss Barbara Federman in girls physical education and George Abraham in the science department created unfilled vacancies on the faculty. Chairmanship of the science department was given to a member of the science department, Ronald Garrelts. An additional biology and general science teacher will be added to these two teaching teams.

In girls P.E. the school officials are looking for an experienced teacher to direct the entire program.

Paul LaVinn, veteran athletic coach and teacher at L-W, recently resigned to accept the head basketball post in the Kaneland community high school, near Aurora. LaVinn was one of the first teachers employed when the school opened in 1954. During the past eleven years he coached teams in basketball, football and cross country. In addition, for seven years he served as athletic director.

Mr. LaVinn's teaching assignment in the social studies and physical education departments has not been filled.

Trikena Day Camp

The annual Trikena day camp for girl scouts will begin next Monday morning, July 12 in Van Horn Woods. The camp will continue thru July 16.

According to those in charge 220 girls are expected to attend, accompanied by 45 adult leaders. The campers come from Mokena, Frankfort and New Lenox.

Buses have been chartered to take the girls to and from the campsite. There are two stops at Mokena, St. Mary hall, Wolf rd., at 8:30 and VFW hall, Wolf rd. at 8:45. At Lincoln Estates the Standard Oil Station will serve as the depot with the bus stopping at 8:15; the stop at Arbury Hills school is set for 8:30. There will be three stops at New Lenox, Oak View school, 8:15; Haven school, 8:15; Eding's restaurant, 8:25.

Any questions about the bus schedule may be asked of Mrs. Edward Townsend at 485-8652 or Mrs. Robert Best, 479-5394.

Mr. Abraham, chairman of the L-W science department, resigned to accept the assistant principalship of the DeKalb high school. Mr. Abraham came to L-W in 1956 and became head of the department in 1960. During this period he was elected state chairman of the Illinois Junior Academy of Science, remaining closely associated with this organization.

Abraham was one of the pioneers in large group-team teaching in the various science laboratory courses. He helped design and plan the new L-W science lab which is considered by many as the largest and best equipped of any in the country.

Mrs. Abraham has been teaching the mentally handicapped students during the past several years in the Carl Sandburg high school district. They plan to move to DeKalb from their Mokena home later in the summer.

Miss Federman, head of the girls P.E. department, recently accepted a similar position on the staff at Colorado State university at Greeley. Miss Federman has been working on her doctor's degree in this same school so will be able to continue her studies while teaching full-time.

Miss Federman has been a member of the faculty for six years and departmental chairman for three years. She directed the Rhythm Knights that frequently perform during the football and basketball seasons and has been closely associated with all of the girls' extra athletic activities.

Several new staff appointments to the L-W faculty were recently announced by Supt. A. Hunter Chapman. In the music department, Randolph Kummer of Sheboygan, Wis. was signed replacing the vacancy caused by Larry Pfifer's resignation. Mr. Kummer will devote equal time to the instrumental and vocal programs.

Graduating from Northwestern university's school of music, Mr. Kummer recently completed his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin. He will bring to L-W a broad background and experience from his wide participation in various choirs, university bands, orchestras, operas and dramatical productions.

Roger Marth of Kankakee and a graduate of Illinois State university will teach French and boys physical education. Mr. Marth's unique teaching combination was necessary since only three classes in French are scheduled next year.

Mr. Marth has participated extensively in baseball along with other additional sports.

Allan Vogelsang of Rantoul, and a recent graduate from Eastern Illinois university was added to the business education department. He is qualified to teach all of the course offerings in the department. During his college career, Vogelsang was a member of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, serving as its president one year. He is married and has one child. The family will be moving to the community later this summer.

It was necessary to employ only two additional teachers for the new term, these being in vocational agriculture and in Business Education. A total staff numbering 65 will be given full-time teaching assignments.

FIERY END of barn on Raymond Knieriem farm, 179th st. and U.S. 6 on Tuesday of last week. Some 600 bales of hay went up in smoke but livestock was removed in time. Firemen from Mokena, New Lenox and Northwest Homer fought the blaze and prevented it from spreading to other buildings, including the home. Firemen were hampered by sightseers who blocked passage of apparatus and further impeded firemen by parking so close to scene that the trucks had difficulty getting into the driveway. No police were at hand and motorists ignored efforts of volunteers in their attempts to keep the road clear, it was reported.

May Milk Price Better Than Of Year Ago

Representing improvement over a year ago, the May milk price to be paid Chicago market dairy farmers will be at least $3.55 per cwt. on all their deliveries, it was reported today by W. Harold Cope, director of marketing for Pure Milk Association.

This figure includes an addition, or superpool premium, of 3 cents per cwt. over the market average or producer blend price arrived at under the Chicago Federal milk market order.

Superpool premiums paid Chicago market producers on their May milk deliveries totalled approximately $658,000, the result of bargaining earlier this year by Federated Dairy Cooperatives in behalf of 21 dairy farmer cooperatives which supply the market.

The May 1965 price of $3.55 on all milk is 5 cents per cwt. higher than the May 1964 $3.50 price paid on 60 percent of each producer's deliveries and 15 cents higher than the $3.40 price paid a year ago on the remaining 40 percent of these deliveries.

These increases in producer prices over a year ago are influenced by higher prices paid for milk used for manufacturing purposes. The April 1, 1965 increase in butter and cheese support prices is credited with raising the manufacturing milk price by 9 cents per cwt.

The May price announced by Cope is for producer milk of 3.5 percent butterfat test. The differential for each one-tenth of 1 percent of butterfat above or below 3.5 percent is 7.1 cents per cwt.

In addition to the 3 cents per cwt. superpool premium which all Chicago market dairy farmers received, plants utilizing more than 30 percent of producer milk in premium channels paid their producers another 10 cents per cwt. on all milk. Producers whose farms are located roughly within a 70-mile radius of Chicago received another premium of 5 cents.

Some additional premiums were paid to producers by plants which qualified for superpool premiums by making comparatively small shipments of milk to the Chicago market.

May deliveries under Chicago Order 30 totaled 542,205,150 pounds. This was nearly 6 percent or 34 million pounds less than May 1964 deliveries. Approximately 36 percent of producer milk in May was used for Class I purposes.

Declares 2nd Well Good Insurance For Mokena

One of the principal items in the referendum on the proposed improvement of the Mokena water system, to be voted on July 31, is a new well.

The community is now served by one well and officials look on a second well as necessary insurance.

"We have been very fortunate," said Trustee Marvin Weitendorf, chairman of the water and sewer committee, "that we have not encountered any trouble that would force the well down for any extended period."

"Look at what happened in Joliet recently in the midst of a water shortage -- one of the large pumping stations had a breakdown that put it out of commission for several days. But they had other wells to draw from."

"If that happened in Mokena we just wouldn't have any water. Such a happening would not only pose a critical health and sanitation problem but leave us without fire protection. I am sure that everyone feels the same way that the village board does, that a second well is a necessity and that we should have one as soon as possible."

Trustees Roy Richardson and Hans Mueller are on the sewer and water committee with Weitendorf, and Weitendorf and Mueller are on the public property committee of which George Bills is chairman. The two committees, on instructions from Mayor Eric Book have been dealing with the problem of recommending a site for the second well.

Starting with seven possible sites the committees have narrowed the choice to three:

Denny street, across from the Pioneer cemetery.

The Rock Island property at the southeast corner of Front st. and Wolf rd., and,

The property directly across the street at the southwest corner of Front st. and Wolf rd.

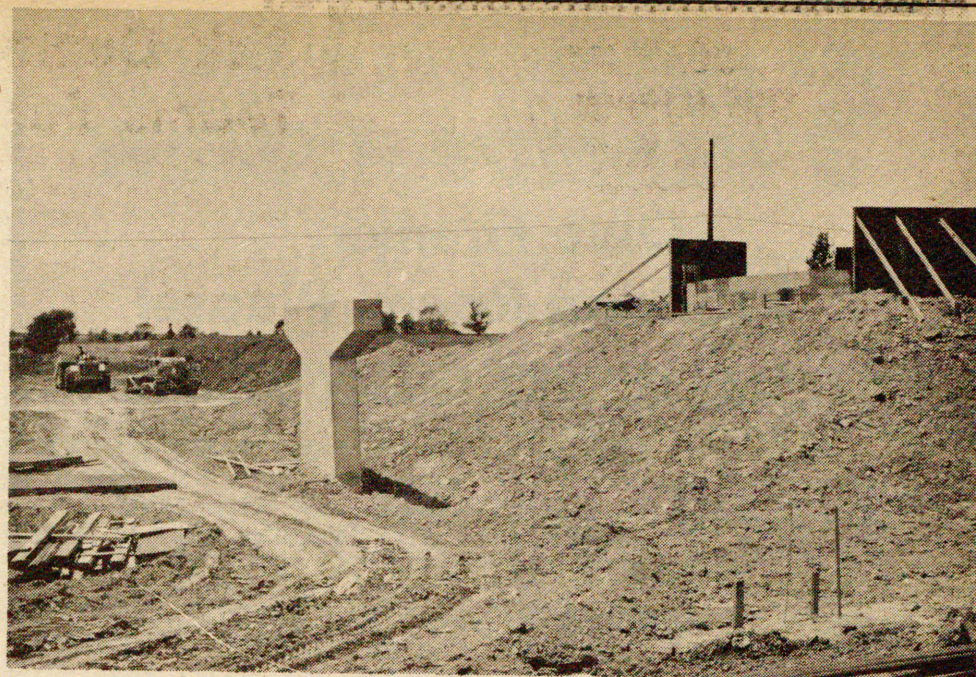

Other sites considered included the village park, off Union st.; the Community park, LaPorte rd., the Pomar Land Development east of the village on 191st st., which has deeded the village a parcel of land for a well site, and one of the lots owned by the village at the sewage treatment plant.

Making use of park properties would involve too much of a legal tangle, the committees believed, and use of the Pomar tract or the sewage treatment plant site would entail too much expense because engineers have recommended an eight-inch main be installed to carry water from the proposed new well to the present tank alongside the village hall.

Such a plan would be economically feasible if any of the three sites under consideration was used, the committee feels.

The water improvement program would also include the laying of mains where none now exist, such as Parker st., Second street, between Mokena and Division; First street between Midland and Wolf rd., Weitendorf said, as well as other places, including Wolf rd. to the south village limits. Fire hydrants would also be installed under the plan, he stated.

PUSH WORK on overpass where Wolf road will cross I-80 north of Mokena. The grading for Wolf road appears to be nearing completion. The pier in the picture is at the north end of what someday will be a bridge spanning I-80. One thing about this job, a strip of pavement was built to accommodate traffic using Wolf road. Francis road will also leapfrog over I-80 in New Lenox township but Francis road will be closed to traffic until the work is finished.

Will Shut Off Water 2 Hours Tuesday Night

Mokena residents will be without water for about two to two and a half hours next Tuesday night, July 13, it was announced by Trustee Marvin Weitendorf, head of the water and sewer committee of the village board.

The water will be shut off at 7:30 and Weitendorf hopes that it can be turned on again by 9:30. The water is being shut off to permit installation of a shut-off valve on Front st., west of Wolf road.

In the event it is raining Tuesday night the work will be done in the same hours on Wednesday, Weitendorf said. He explained that the time of 7:30 was chosen because that would be after the dinner hour.

CARD PARTY

The regular card party sponsored by the VFW auxiliary, will be held at the V.F.W. hall on Wolf road Saturday, July 10, at 8 p.m. The chairman is Mrs. Donald Wilson, assisted by Mrs. James Lilly and Mrs. Walter Larson. The public is invited to attend.

Will Lay Cornerstone For New Lutheran Church Sunday

The cornerstone for the new Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church, LaPorte Rd., Mokena, is to be laid at 3 o'clock this Sunday afternoon (July 11) with the Rev. Dr. A. J. Bueltmann, pastor, laying the same.

All members, of course, and the public, are invited to the ceremony.

The laying of the cornerstone for the new church lacks but three months of the time such a ceremony took place 50 years ago. The cornerstone of the present church was laid Oct. 10, 1915.

On the building committee for that church was N.G. Geuther, father of Robert Geuther, chairman of the building committee for the new church. Other members of the present building committee are Donald Ambuehl, Raymond Bernard, Albert Janner, Melvin Moutrey, Robert Niemann, Walter Welsch, and the pastor.

The cornerstone of the present church was replaced with another stone and the contents of the original stone, which had been enclosed in a soldered copper box were as new looking as the day they were sealed up. These items will be placed in the cornerstone of the new church: A German bible, a German catechism, a German third reader (there was a parochial school then); a third reader English, a catechism in English; the 1915 proceedings of the Northern Illinois District (of the church), and Jan. 19, 1915 issued of "Der Lutheraner."

To be added to the list of contents for the new cornerstone will be: A 1965 list of communicants and church officers; three brochures, "What You Should Know About Your Church," "Immanuel Invites You," and "God's Challenge to Us."

Also to be enclosed will be a picture of the building committee at the groundbreaking ceremony; a copy of April 30, 1965 issue of "Lutheran Witness; a copy of Vol. 1, No. 1 issue of "Lutheran Witness Reporter," dated May 9, 1965; a copy of "The News-Bulletin" of June 3, 1965 issue; a history of Immanuel congregation, a holy bible, Revised Standard version, and a Catechism, Copyright 1943.

The new church has three units, sanctuary, educational section and fellowship hall. The sanctuary will seat 168 in pews with an overflow area for 107 persons.

The educational unit contains eight individual classrooms and some of the larger areas will be equipped with movable partitions to provide five additional classrooms.

The fellowship hall will seat 180 persons at tables and had a large, modern kitchen adjacent to it.

Additional rooms are provided for the church administration office and the pastor's study.

The new church will cost approximately $140,000, it was stated. Charles Johnson & Associates of LaGrange are the architects the D. J. Degenhart Construction Co., of Harvey, the contractor. No definite date has been set for completion of the building but the congregation hopes to be in it before its 115th anniversary which falls on Nov. 4, 1965.

Ticket Driver

Thomas Resutko, 21, Mokena, was ticketed by state police on a charge of improper passing and causing an accident last Friday night.

According to the report Resutko struck the rear end of a car driven by Charles Gorman, 42, Rt. 1, Mokena after passing a truck on U.S. 30 near Schmuhl rd. Gorman and a passenger, David Pages, 21, Mokena, reportedly suffered minor injuries.

Give Firemen Working Room, Please!

Speed in getting to the scene of a fire is important. It is important to the property owner; it is important to the fire fighters. If firemen can get water on a fire in the early stages the odds are in favor of extinguishing it speedily and with little damage or loss.

That is why it is difficult to save farm buildings, if they are of any distance from headquarters of the fire department. By the time firemen can arrive the flames usually have gained so much headway they are out of control. The only thing the men can do then is keep them from spreading to other buildings. That they succeed so well in this phase of their work attests to the value of their many hours of study and drill.

In the communities in this area the fire departments are made up entirely of volunteer members. The men attend drills, they go to school. They learn first aid and rescue work as well as how to fight fire. They sacrifice sleep and rest and what otherwise would be leisure, responding to alarms at all hours -- day or night. The heavy rubber coats, boots and helmets can be like an oven under a blazing summer sun and freezing in zero cold. They frequently risk life and injury. And all this without pay or hope of monetary reward. Their only compensation is the satisfaction of helping those in distress.

They ask little of the public in comparison with what they give. There is something, however, they would appreciate -- a clear road and working room.

Too many motorists, either thru ignorance -- altho it is difficult to imagine anyone that ignorant -- or a wanton disregard of the plight of some distressed family, or a compelling desire to flout authority, impede the progress of emergency vehicles.

One can see it on city streets or country roads. It is worse on country roads because as a rule they are narrower than city thoroughfares and thus easier to block.

At a fire last week on U.S. 6 in the vicinity of 179th street firemen were impeded in their work by motorists. Cars of the curious had 179th street blocked between U.S. 6 and Wolf rd. blocked most of the time. This was the route firemen used for the water truck. It was a barn fire and blazing high. To keep the flames from spreading to other buildings a lot of water had to be used. The nearest source of water was Mokena and the shortest way to Mokena was via 179th st. Some cars were parked alongside the road but others pulled out from both sides and remained in the roadway.

Motorists also parked so close to the driveway leading to the barn that fire trucks could not make the turn until the cars were moved. Firemen had to move some of them.

To make matters worse no police were on hand to control traffic. Had police been there they could have issued many tickets. Under the same section in the statutes that requires motorists following a fire truck to preserve a 500-foot interval it is also forbidden to park within a block of a fire. Hindering movements of the water trucks could fall under the parking ban or the statute that requires vehicles to pull aside and give emergency vehicles a clear passage as soon as they hear the siren or see the flasher lights.

Blocking emergency vehicles can have serious consequences and those guilty of such tactics should be punished. The law should be amended to provide for a mandatory jail sentence as well as a fine.

BUSINESS & FINANCE

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The stock market averages have made a dramatic turn-about after a steady slide for a number of weeks. Students noted that total volume in the declining markets, had been small and individual trades, by their size, indicated that institutional accounts were not active.

The reversal of trend came with gusto when individual trades of large amounts were common. The total shares traded for the first two days of the turnaround, was close to 18 million shares. Even the new high speed ticker showing individual trades, was late.

Comments of leading analysts vary, but generally they express belief that we are still in a rising market phase, but caution against too much optimism is urged. Investment services express the view that the sell-off was due to an over-due correction of market gains in the past three years. Belief was also expressed that this correction had gone too far too fast on the down-side and a reaction could be expected on the up side, for at least a part of the decline.

Students of the Dow Theory of market action, note that there have been signals of a decline for some time in that while the Dow Jones Industrial Averages have been rising, the Dow Jones Railroad Averages have had a declining record. Dow Theory proponents express belief that when the Industrial Averages and the Railroad Averages have divergent courses over a period, it is time to alert to a probable change in market trend.

Fortune magazine's Business Roundup of business activity, believes that the dominant factor in the economy for the next nine months will be inventory positions. It expects surplus steel stocks to be liquidated by next winter and abnormal accumulation of steel inventory to be ended for the time at least. Capital goods -- mainly production machinery -- are expected to slow down after a five year climb. This is a very cyclical industry.

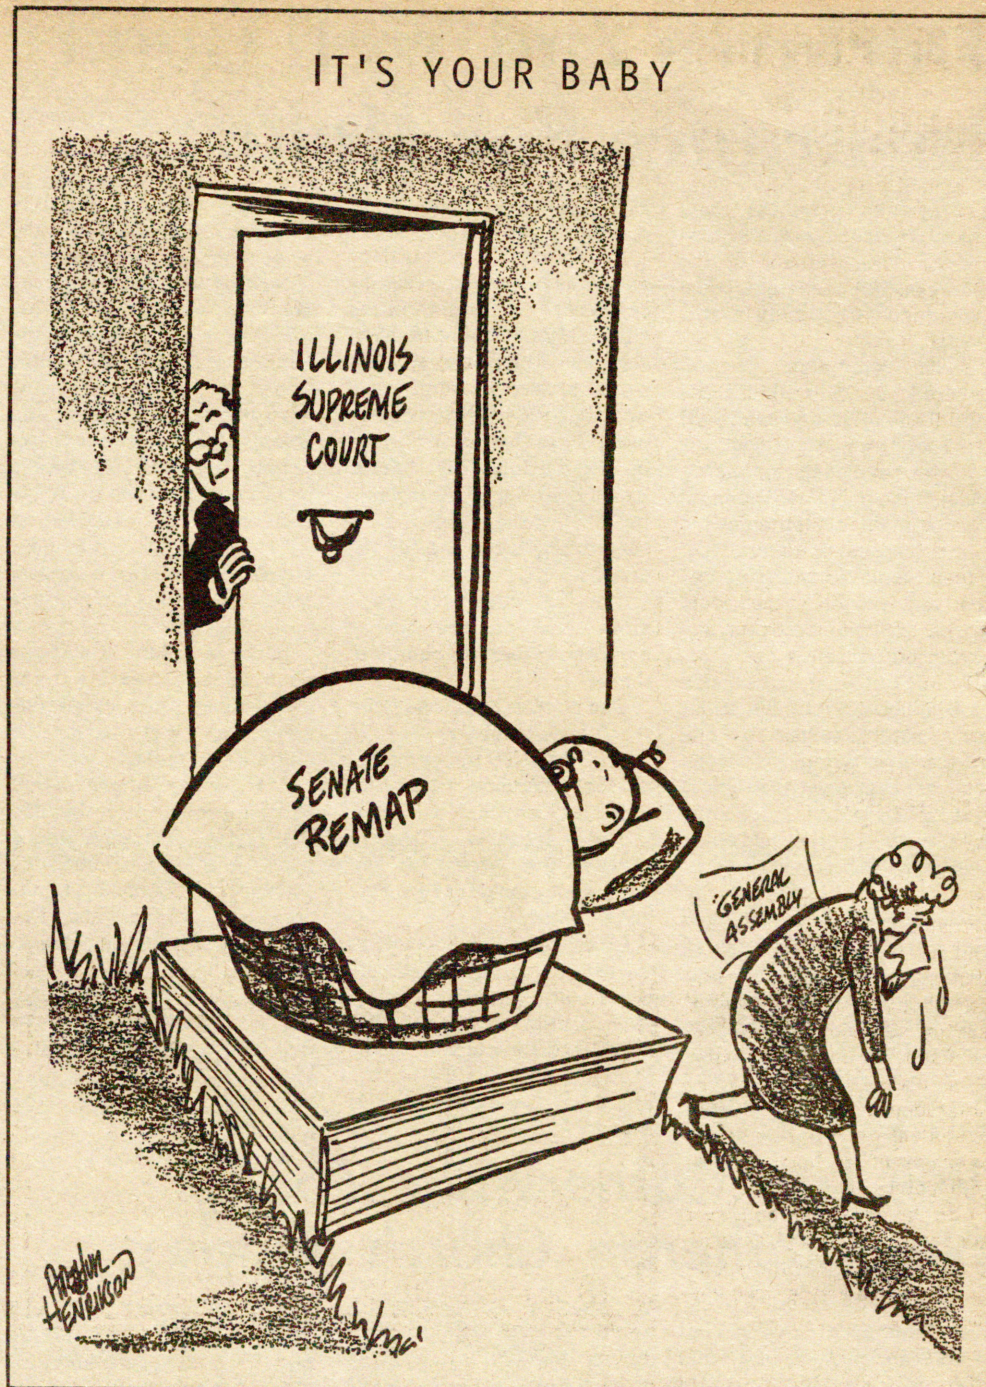

The magazine points to other segments of the economy which will be increasing. The first mentioned is as regards fact that the Census Bureau expects 1967 to show the long awaited rise in family formation. It is noted that children born during the war and early years thereafter will be forming families of their own and demand for new housing increase. This is expected to account for a $2 billion rise in housing construction.

It is also stated that the federal budget will also turn up again by the end of next year in costs of medicare, welfare and defense spending. This is expected to produce a deficit running at the rate of about $1 billion yearly.

Major increases in 1967 defense budget due to escalation of the defense budget in Viet Nam and other trouble spots, must be expected. Additional defense spending is expected to increase about $5 billion in the next year and a half.

Students of our present world, note that unless we can reduce our world position to much lower standards, we can expect to be envied and damned by even those whom we aid.

ON 2nd THOT

By Glenn Logan

JEFFERSON P. THROTBOTTOM helped himself to the cigars, filled a commodious tobacco pouch from the humidor, sat down and after firing up a pipe proceeded to glance thru one of the newspapers on my desk.

"Mm-m, I note here that the high schools are sending students to compete in a state speech contest," he remarked. He read on, turning pages and commenting from time to time on some item that interested him.

"Well, now," he said, "here's something about some business men enrolling in a management course at a college. They go nights, apparently once a week, and look at the staff of instructors. They are all speech instructors. Oh well, I suppose they know what they are doing. One would imagine that management would lay special emphasis on thinking but I suppose there is a lot of talking to it too, especially in fighting for precedence.

"Personally," Jeff went on, "I think we are overdoing this public speaking. It starts in grade school and continues thru high school and college. In many institutions of learning, or so I have been informed, public speaking is a required course.

"NOR DOES IT stop there. Not only are public speaking courses available in the schools but also in night schools, YMCAs and study groups. There are toastmaster clubs, toastmistress clubs and a lot of other clubs provide opportunity to members to exercise their sound boxes.

"The result is that we have too many people too ready to make speeches, without any reason or justification for it.

"Now," Jeff continued, "Schoolboy Pasquale takes a different position."

"Who?" I asked. "Schoolboy Pasquale, oh, why that is Updike Z. Pasquale. I ran into him at Kelly's oasis this afternoon. Someone at Kelly's tabbed him as Schoolboy sometime ago. He is called that because altho he is 57 years old he is still going to college. I suppose one could say that he was hipped on education. He could be a teacher, I imagine, but he doesn't want that. He wants to be a student.

"Schoolboy was fortunate to have had a grandfather who was a business pal of some of the oil and steel tycoons of the pre-income tax era and there is still enough pelf left for the grandson to pursue his hobby of attending college.

"He has gone to universities all over the world and has enough degrees that if he put all of their letters after his name, someone at Kelly's figured out, they would cover the end of a beer barrel.

"IT IS SCHOOLBOY'S theory," Jeff rambled on, "that this public speaking will preserve our form of government; that if we do go down the socialist drain it will not be because of the harangues and platitudes of the dictator types or the soundings of the furry-eyed pink-minded.

"Many a country has fallen prey to these slob," Schoolboy contends, "because the people in them were listeners. They got drunk on words. Some people do, Schoolboy says. Well, everyone to his own likes. Personally I think that words have a place in our daily lives but when it comes to stimulants I will still take bourbon."

He looked expectantly. I shook my head. He shrugged and went on.

"In our country there are more speakers than listeners. Everybody wants to get into the act. Nine out of 10 persons who go to a meeting, public or private, are prepared to pop up and loose their bazoos if given the slightest opportunity. They are convinced that if given the chance they could do better than the persons who are talking and are so busy deciding what they would say if called upon that they pay little attention to what the speaker is talking about.

"I," declared Jeff emptying his pipe and getting to his feet, "can always tell you what the speaker is talking about--about long enough, and that is three minutes after he gets his tail off the pad. Well, pip. I'm going to night school now and should be up at Kelly's now doing a little prep. Drinking? There is no course in drinking. No, I have taken up public speaking."

Dairy and Poultry 4-H Teams Win "A" Rating

Will County Dairy and Poultry 4-H judging teams earned an "A" rating at the state 4-H judging contest in Urbana on Tuesday, June 29, reports W. E. Bay, assistant farm adviser.

Members of the dairy team were ... Nancy Koehn, Bernard Heisner, Ralph Ruhbeck, Marcia Peck and Karen Wichtendahl of Peotone and Nancy Heldt of Beecher. The winning poultry team was ... Kenneth Bettenhausen, Frankfort; Richard Taylor, Lockport; Jeoffery Stevens of Wilmington; Roger Weber, Monee; Jerry Paddock, Lockport and Frank Rink, Braidwood.

George Daigh of the state 4-H staff says that nearly 900 4-H'ers from 85 counties took part in this year's contest. They judged in livestock, poultry, dairy and vegetable divisions. County teams and individuals were ranked in three groups. A team ribbon was given to counties with Class A and B judging teams.

Ribbons were awarded to individuals placing in Classes A and B. Medals will be awarded to members taking part in national contests later this year.

Illinois will be represented in national contests in all four divisions of the state contest by teams made up of three individuals and an alternate. The four team members in each contest are selected from the A group in the state contest by means of invitational contests held later in the year.

In national competition members on the state dairy team will judge at the National 4-H Dairy judging contest at Waterloo, Iowa, and the International Dairy Show, Chicago; the livestock team will compete at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago and American Royal Livestock Show in Kansas City; poultry team members will attend an invitational contest in Chicago and vegetable team members will judge in a national invitational contest in Cincinnati, Ohio.

He urges residents to re-

hints for homeowners

Rose growers are reminded of two special operations they can perform this week ... drying and pruning.

By drying or preserving, you can look at this summer's roses next winter as well as right now. Using a new drying material, you can preserve the color and form; everything, in fact, but the moisture in the petals. All you need are some perfect roses, silica gel, a box, and some patience. Start by getting the silica gel, a drying agent. A very finely ground form is now sold just for drying flowers. Find a box that is deep enough to hold an entire rose flower. A shoe box works well.

A hot, dry day is a good time to pick your perfect rose. Choose a partially opened flower. Cut as many as you think you can use. Bury the flower head very gently and completely in the silica gel. To preserve the flower's natural shape, a sifter or a spoon can be used to sift the drying agent between the petals.

Silica gel dries flowers so quickly they retain their original color and form. When dry, attach the flower to an artificial wire stem. The drying time varies, but your rose may be dried and ready for permanent use in four to six days. The silica gel after drying in an oven may be used over and over again.

The rose pruning is confined to rambler and small-flowered climbers. Unless pruned soon after bloom, they quickly become tangles of briars. It should be pointed out, however, that ramblers and small - flowered climbers are the only types of roses pruned at this time. In contrast, shrub type roses are pruned in the spring. The reason for pruning these special roses now is that they bloom on wood that grew last year or the year before. Spring pruning would remove this year's flowers.

When pruning rambler roses, first cut out any dead or diseased wood. Then remove any canes three years old or older. You can spot them because they will bear few or no dead flower clusters. After this operation, do any pruning necessary to keep the plant within the bounds you set. This pruning stimulates the climbers to produce many strong new canes this summer which will provide an abundance of flowers next June.

Mokena Library Launches Summer Reading Contest

The Mokena library, operated by the Mokena Book club, launched its annual summer reading contest yesterday (July 7) and it will continue until Wednesday, Aug. 25.

"Take A Trip," is the theme of this year's contest. Each child, between the ages of six and 16 who wishes to enter must sign his name on the chart displayed in the library, it was explained, and get an official entry blank at the book check-out counter.

Object of the contest is to see which child can take the longest trip around the U.S.A., with each book read at his age level to count as one state visited.

An outline map is included in each entry blank for the contestants can keep track of reading progress by coloring in states, a list of books read is to be kept on the blank also and is to be turned in for judging at the end of the contest.

This annual contest is sponsored by the Book club to encourage area children to read during the summer months. Special help has been given the program for this summer by the special state collection of 1,000 books which are now available.

The library, the rent for which is paid by the Mokena Lions club, is operated by the Book club. Library hours are 3 to 5 and 7:30 to 9 p.m. every Wednesday. All area residents are eligible to borrow books, with children requiring the signature of a parent before books may be taken out.

Many hands made light work of the job of cataloging 400 state books for the Mokena library the past week. Teenagers who volunteered their time included, Mike Shewski, Mark Ebert, Shirley Janner and Carol Benson. Also doing a yeoman's job in moving many boxes of stored books was Rickie Olson.

Book club volunteers on this project included Mrs. Robert Olson, librarian, and Mrs. Fred Lehmann, Mrs. Herbert Neef, Mrs. Roger Wellman, Mrs. Phillip Lenz and Mrs. Gerry Wagner.

The Mokena Book club expressed its gratitude for the aid given.

Baseball League To Sell Tickets For Cub-Sox Game

The Chicago White Sox have asked the Arbury Hills Boys Baseball League to participate in the sale of tickets to the annual Cubs-Sox benefit game which is to be held at Comiskey park on Monday evening, July 26, at 8 o'clock.

The price of all adult tickets will be $1.50 and all childrens tickets will be 75 cents. The proceeds from this game each year are put into a fund which provides baseball equipment for Little League and independent boys baseball leagues in the Chicagoland area.

This is how the boys here in Arbury Hills received baseballs and bats from the Chicago White Sox earlier this spring.

Anyone interested in obtaining tickets for this game should call Francis Cronas at 479-5038.

The Babe Ruth age Arbury Hills team (ages 13 to fifteen) played the first team of New Lenox at their home field and still managed to fight to a four to four tie. It was a well played match with both sides showing their best efforts.

The "B" Team of nine to 12 year olds took a lopsided victory from the Lincoln Estates boys by the score of 20 to 3.

He will be glad to show you how a Metropolitan Life Insurance program can help bring independence and security to you and your family. Write or call:

The happy smiles on the faces of some of the boys indicate that finally they were triumphant. The traveling "A" team has had a long dry spell in search of their first win following one tie game and too many losses. The score was a decisive eleven to three with our boys coming out ahead of Lincoln Estates.

The secretary's book of the Arbury Hills Baby Sitters Cooperative will be given to Mrs. Edward Hovi from Mrs. Jack Cook next Thursday, July 15 and will remain with Mrs. Hovi until the end of July.

Anyone in the club needing a baby sitter after July 15 should contact Mrs. Hovi at 479-5740 at least twenty-four hours in advance of the time needed.

If there are any other mothers in Arbury Hills who would be interested in joining the group or who would want further information, please contact Mrs. Hovi at the above number for assistance.

Charles and Marjorie Hecht of 9524 West Elm avenue became the parents of their third child at the Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, June 15. Miss Marie Elizabeth Hecht presented herself for inspection at a birth weight of eight pounds four ounces.

Jo Ann Hecht, the six and one-half year old daughter now has a cohort to outnumber her brother James who is a year younger at five and one-half.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gunty of 9431 West Elm avenue and their three children spent their two weeks vacation touring the western United States.

While they were traveling they paid a visit on the Stensrud family formerly living on Elm avenue in Arbury Hills. The Stensrud's had moved west around the first of the year.

The Arbury Hills Cub Scout Pack Number 10 has tickets for the July 17 game at the Chicago White Sox Park. Mr. Pasky, the cub-scout master, has stated that, unless there are enough drivers to take all the boys, some 44 of them, that none of the boys will go.

If you would be able to drive the boys to the game, please contact Mr. Pasky at 479-5528 to offer your car's services. The driver of the boys, as well as the boys themselves, will be admitted to the game without charge as guests of the management.

The Junior Girl Scout Troop Number 103 went on their first campout at Hawthorne Ridge from June 28 thru June 30. When Mrs. Harris the troop leader took ill, Mrs. Markowski, the Cadette leader did a pinch hit routine for her. The gratitude of the girls and the parents goes to Mrs. Markowski.

There were also two other mothers along for adult supervision, Mrs. Robert Dickerson and Mrs. Alice Chesnut. A couple more thank you's for these ladies.

Monday evening the girls ringed a campfire and performed skits which were so good that no decision could be made as to which was best. Janice Maschmeyer provided a special treat for all the girls with a birthday cake to celebrate her birthday.

Tuesday evening the girls joined another troop of Cadettes, Mrs. Best's of Mokena, around a main campfire. The Juniors were asked to participate in a bridging ceremony into Cadettes for those eligible, but decided to be observers only and leave bridging for the fall.

The girls were served popcorn and marshmallows and topped off the evening by returning to their own campfire and were presented with their badges which they had earned recently.

The girls returned home

Mokena Blues Down Reds On Holiday Bill, 9 To 4

In the game at the Mokena Festival on July 5, Tim Shanahan made an impressive debut as a pitcher for Mokena Blues as they defeated the Mokena Reds 9-4 before a good holiday crowd. Shanahan allowed only 5 hits, 3 of them coming in the 6th inning when the Reds scored all 4 runs with the help of doubles by Nate Roesner and relief pitcher Bob Taylor. Starting and losing pitcher for the Reds was Sam Graham, who pitched the first 1 - 1/3 innings. Gordon Bruce, Mike Buske and Ken Warning had the other 3 hits, all singles. The Blues collected 9 hits, with Dick Lehmann getting a double and 2 singles and Marty Novak, 2 singles. Kennard, Pels, Shanahan and Zugenbuehler each had a single for the winners.

On June 29 the New Lenox teams took two close games from Mokena as N. L. Moss beat the Reds 3-2 at Mokena, while the Blues lost their first extra - inning game to N.L. State Bank 5-4 at New Lenox.

Reiter was the winning pitcher for N.L. Moss, with Bockman pitching the last 2/3 inning and getting a save, while Gordon Bruce pitched and Rosener had a triple for the losers.

At New Lenox Dave Wallace and the Blues lost a heart-breaker to the State Bank team. After going ahead 4-3 in the top of the 8th inning, Wallace gave up a lead-off single in the last of the inning but struck out the next two batters. An intentional walk to Randolph was followed by another walk to Matthews and the winning runs came in on a slow in-field roller just out of the reach of several Mokena players. Wallace and winning pitcher Bill Druschel each had 15 strike - outs, with New Lenox getting 6 hits and Mokena, 5.

Mokena To Have New Building Inspector

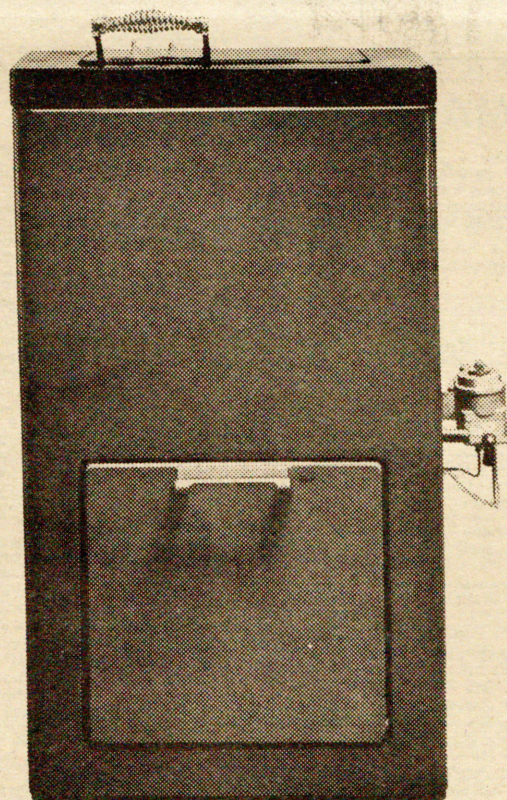

Charles Burkhardt, Sr., has been named building inspector for Mokena.

The village board also is studying building regulations suitable to Mokena with the intent of adopting a new building code.

The present code is voluminous and contains too many things not applicable to the area, according to Roy Richardson, chairman of the village board building committee.

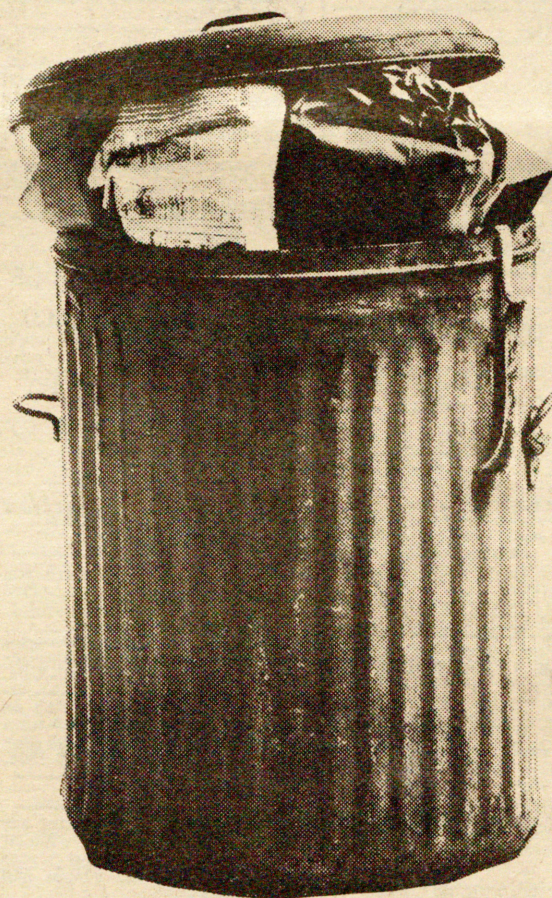

Village Attorney Ronald Galowixh suggested that Richardson write the Illinois Municipal League and ascertain if it has a code that would be suitable for a community the size of Mokena.

Chicago Music Festival To Be Held At McCormick Place

The Chicagoland Music Festival, held each summer for 35 years in Soldiers' Field, will be presented this year in the Arie Crown theater in McCormick Place Saturday, Aug. 7, at 8 p.m.

The festival is sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. For its indoor debut, the 36th program has been arranged to provide something for everybody, according to Philip Maxwell, who has directed the festival since its inception.

Winning soloists on the program, and also second and third place runners-up in each contest division, will be awarded scholarships by the Society of American Musicians, which is conducting the contests to pick the amateur musicians who will appear. The scholarships, totaling $15,000 are a grant of the Robert R. McCormick Foundation.

The festival tickets are $5, $4, $3, and $2, with all seats reserved. They may be ordered from the Festival Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

L.O.M. Elects H.D. Ross To 2nd. Highest Post

Harold D. Ross of Mt. Morris, Ill., a vice president of the Kable Printing Co., was elected to the second highest post in the Loyal Order of Moose, that of Supreme Junior Governor. Ross served as Supreme Prelate last year.

Ross has been a member of the Mt. Morris Lodge No. 1551 since 1936. He served as a trustee of the Mooseheart - Moosehaven Endowment Fund before being elected to the Supreme Council, the top governing body of the Moose. He was elected Supreme Prelate in 1964.

Ross and his wife, Dorothy, donated 86 acres of wooded area near Mt. Morris in 1956 which paved the way for the summer camp now bearing their names.

Honors Classes Get O.K. Of Sandburg Students, Parents

Apparently most students at Carl Sandburg, if they could start over again, would enroll in honor courses for which they qualify. And their parents would want them to.

These are the results of a study of 28 students and their parents conducted by Richard K. Kucera, dean of students.

Recently the so-called "honors classes" in high schools around the nation have come under attack by educators, students, and parents. Some studies have shown that academic pressures in some of these classes have increased the incidence of ulcers, suicides, and nervous breakdowns among students. Some people have even recommended that less work be required of students in accelerated courses.

Kucera found, however, general satisfaction with the honors courses at Sandburg. On the basis of the study he concluded that:

1) Most students in honors classes found the competition reasonable and not threatening.
2) With a very few exceptions, most students felt that their selection to honors classes was soundly based on their ability to function adequately. (Students are selected on the bases of test scores, teacher recommendations and parental approval. They may be removed at the request of the parent or on the recommendation of the department head.)
3) Altho most students had some feelings of inadequacy in relation to other students in the classes, these feelings never appeared so threatening as to force students to drop out of the program.
4) In spite of the keen competition which prevailed at times, the pressures on students did not curtail their social or recreational activities.
5) The majority of the students plan to continue courses even the subject they enjoy least.
6) Most students thought that being in honors classes did enhance their academic and social status with their classmates. A like number, however, felt that some of the other students did display some degree of envy (expressed by referring to the honors students as "egg-heads," etc.).

Among the parents Kucera also found general satisfaction with Sandburg's honors program:

1) Altho the majority of parents thought it was reasonable, some parents thought that homework assignments were excessive.
2) Most parents ("with few exceptions") thought that the honors program did serve the purpose of enrichment in English, mathematics and science.
3) With the exception of one student and one parent, all responses indicated satisfaction with having participated in the honors program.

Grades were the principal source of dissatisfaction uncovered by Kucera's study. Because of the way they are selected, these students should be among the most capable enrolled in the school.

Kucera found, however, that in science eleven students received an average grade of A, ten students received an average of B, and one student received a C average.

In mathematics, eight students received an average grade of B and three averaged a C.

In English, 16 students earned A's while 12 earned B's.

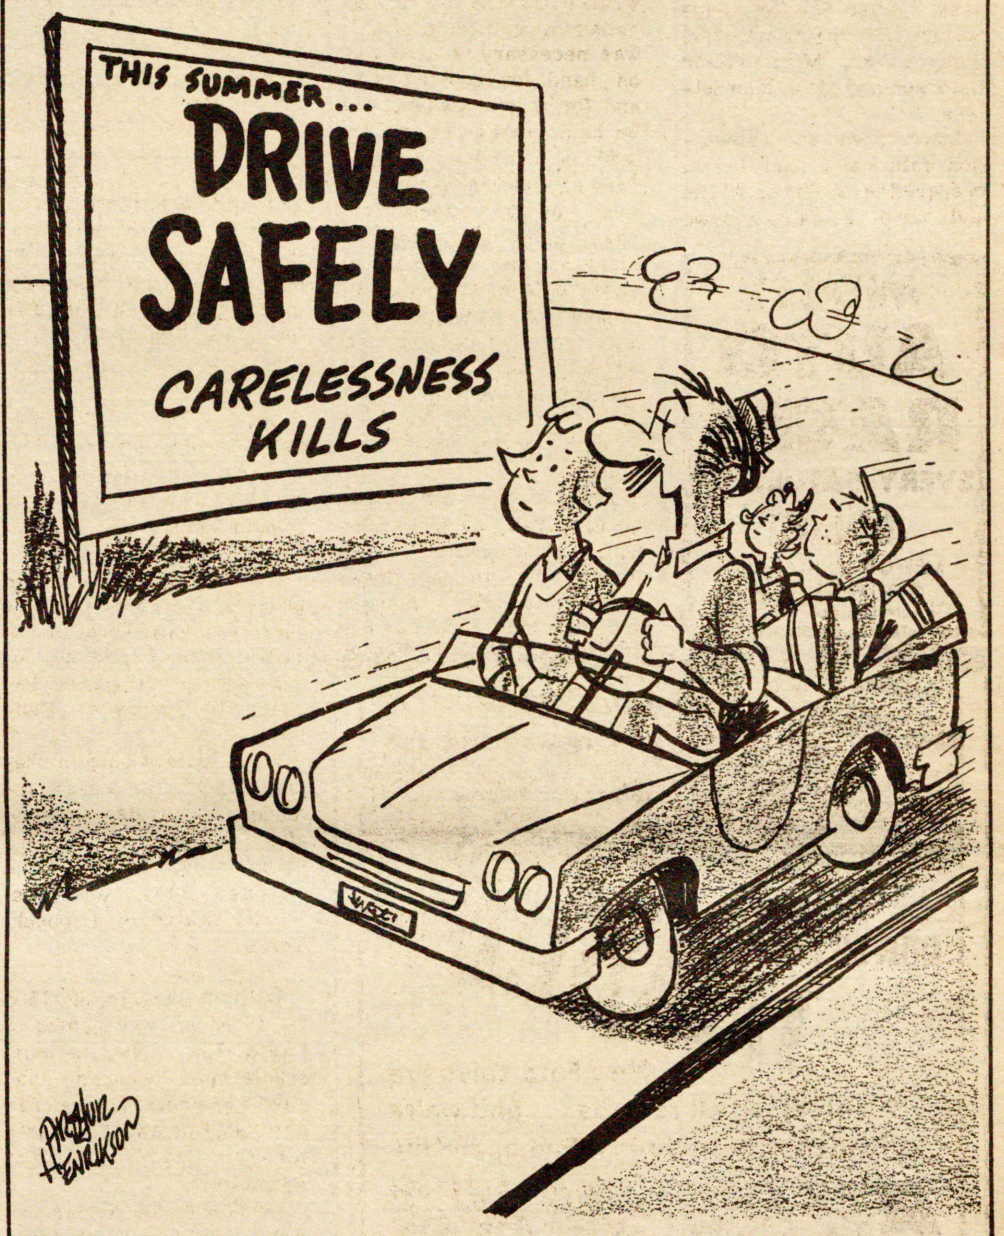

Kucera concluded that "approximately half of what should have been the best students in school received a grade of A, with the exception of English, where there were more A's than B's.

Students also liked best those courses in which they received the best grades.

This lead Lucera to conclude that "perhaps grades in the accelerated curriculum are not so rewarding as they should be in light of the emphasis on grades in determining class rank, college acceptance and selection for scholarships."

Parents and students alike agreed that honors classes were enjoyable because students: learned more rapidly, were in class with other good students, and were getting adequate preparation for college.

Glad They're Warning Those Other Drivers!

hints for homeowners

BY: RICHARD DeLANO
If you are one of the lucky ones that are immune from poison ivy, consider yourself indeed lucky.

However, if you are not sure about your susceptibility then heed the motto "Leaflets three, quickly flee. Berries white poisonous sight."

There's no doubt about it the best way to avoid trouble with this plant is to learn to recognize and then avoid it. Better yet make all the members of the family aware of the discomfort which could result from accidental contact.

Poison ivy and its close kin, poison oak, are three-leaved climbing plants. However, on occasion poison ivy may look like a low-growing shrub. It can be found almost anywhere... fence rows, orchards, woods, even picnic areas.

Poison sumac is a small shrub with small white berries.

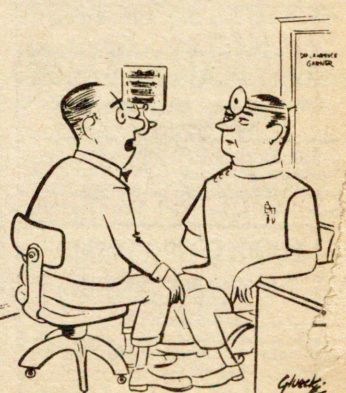

There is no simple cure for poison ivy rash, lotions and ointments can help ease the discomfort while the ailment runs its course. Better still, if you know that you have been exposed to poison ivy, follow the first aid procedures and wash thoroughly. Use plenty of warm water and soap. Following these first aid precautions see your doctor at once. He may be able to prescribe some of the new cortisone - like drugs which can stop the pain before it starts.

Remember that clothing worn during exposure should be washed or dry cleaned before being worn again. Even this may not prevent a recurrence, since you may contract a poison ivy rash without touching contaminated clothing or a plant. Volatile oils may be carried on coats of dogs and cats, or wafted through the air from a trash fire. If you are frequently or seriously bothered by poison ivy ask your physician about more detailed methods of prevention.

The weed itself can be killed by spraying with amitrole. However this material should not contact desirable plants.

Before taking a chance with this weed look for photographs of all three poisonous plants in natural history book or encyclopedias. The free leaflet called "Controlling Poison Ivy" also contains pictures and diagrams of these weeds. It also illustrates the harmless virginia creeper which is sometimes confused with poison ivy. For convenience sake the leaflet opens up in poster form so it may be displayed at camp, cottage or home. Free copies are obtainable at the Farm Advisors office, 201 N. Dunton St., Arlington Heights.

Troop Camping At Long Last

Telephone: 479-3521
After several months of planning, learning and practicing camping skills, the Girl Scouts of troop 385 left on June 28 for a three day campout at Hawthorne Ridge, Crete, Illinois. Upon arrival at camp, fourteen eager campers pitched in to help unload, unpack and settle in at Pine Row. Members of the troop who made the trip are Lorraine Bond, Carol Burkhardt, Jill Burkhardt, Susan Dixon, Julie Ennis, Pam Fant, Candy Fee, Cheryl Miller, Sharon Neuls, Janice Peterson, Joy Richards, Denise Schifler, Judy Sellers, Kerry Stewart, Mrs. Wm. Miller, Mrs. Victor Peterson and Mrs. John Sellers.

Instructions and orientation followed a sack lunch, prepared beforehand. A hike and tour of the camp and two other camping sites finished the afternoon. Preparations for a hot supper brought out the worst and best of work assignments. Cooks, hostesses and fire builders happily set to work but wood carriers, latrine cleaners and cleanups were reluctant to get busy. An evening campfire with skits by each tent and songs closed a day of new experiences. Ghost stories and chatter and strange noises kept many novice campers awake til late.

On Tuesday, after morning work was finished, the whole troop set out on wood gathering expedition. This was necessary to have wood on hand for cooking fires and for a joint campfire to be held in the evening. The leaders cut down a large dead pine and the girls trimmed off the branches and sawed it into useable lengths. Many had never chopped or sawed before but soon a good supply was brought to camp and stored for later use. At this point a rest was ordered by leaders and the girls cleaned up and took it easy for the rest of the morning.

Because of a rainy afternoon, a craft project was begun. Mrs. Peterson explained how to use finger weaving to make a lanyard and each girl started on her own. Surprise guests made supper preparations a busy time. Mrs. Robert Best, Susan Schute, and Jackie Snow from Cadette troop 97 were our visitors. After a fine supper of chicken in foil with sliced potatoes, corn, salad, lemonade, chocolate pudding and cookies, the girls hurried to get ready for the evening program.

At a joint campfire Tuesday night, the girls from troops 385 and 387 were bridged over into Cadettes. An impressive ceremony was conducted by troop 97 and viewed by all, including troop 106 of Arbury Hills. The following girls were bridged: Cheryl Miller, Candy Fee, Susan Dixon, Judy Sellers, and Janice Peterson from 385 and Joy Schiek, Marilyn Yunker, Ora Speiss, Janet Richardson and Karen Rausch from 387. After songs, skits and refreshments the troops were off to bed and to sleep.

Wednesday morning was taken up by preparations for the homeward trip. Clothes and equipment to be packed, cleaning the area and leaving everything in good condition took up the rest of the morning. After a hot lunch, the girls left for home at 1:30 p.m.

Mokena friends have received word from Mrs. Martha Hall and her daughter Eleanor, former Mokena residents, now living at Lexington, Ky., where Eleanor's husband Joe Hayden, is in charge of traffic at the Lexington airport. Eleanor underwent surgery last December for a mastoid, at which time a brain tumor was discovered. In January she returned to the hospital when the tumor was loosened and in February it was entirely removed. In March she again returned to the hospital when everything in that ear was removed, resulting in deafness. She is now home recuperating. Her mother 87, because of breaking bones frequently, during the hospitalization of Eleanor, was removed to the Rose Manor nursing home, in Lexington, where she is doing well and anxious to return home.

But during all this, there was some bright spots. When their oldest daughter, JoEllen, was graduated from the Lexington, high school in June, she received the highest award, a $4,200 scholarship. The Haydens have another daughter and a son, who also head their classes.

OVER 70,000 PEOPLE JUST HAD AN "EXTRA PAY DAY" AND SHARED

They are the 70,000 savers who shared the peak 1965 mid-year dividends from Joliet Federal Savings.

For some -- those with large savings accounts -- this amounts to a considerable sum of money. Others with smaller accounts receive a proportionate share. The point is -- the more you save -- the more you earn on that extra payday. (You get two extra paydays a year at Joliet Federal.) So if you're a savings account holder at Joliet Federal now -- let your dividends spur you on to greater efforts. And if you're not currently saving here -- take a cue from those who shared in this payday -- and get your share of earnings at the next dividend payment on December 31, 1965 by opening your profitable savings account now!

And remember -- if you open or add to your Joliet Federal savings account on or before July 15, your savings will earn a full 6 months dividends next December 31.

Joliet Federal Savings is the only Federally chartered association in Will County.
